Game Improvement Programs - Adults

OWN your game.
in business. in sport. in life.
cindymillerinc.com

We are committed to teach those who want to excel at the game of golf and are offering the opportunity for each student to reach their personal potential. With that goal in mind, we are creating some new programming to ensure we are able to help each student reach their goals.

Learning to play golf requires the student to learn many skills. Age doesn't really matter when it comes to improvement. We must all learn the skills necessary to hit the golf ball where we want it to go. Once we acquire the skills, we need to learn how to implement those skills on the course.

For those players who are just beginning or would like to develop their game within a group setting, we will be offering The Player Development Program. A package of group lessons that will include sessions on putting, around the green, and full swing. This program will include skill assessments to ensure players are able to implement their newfound skills on the course to score better.

For those who are a little more accomplished, we are offering The Own Your Game Academy which includes two private lessons per month and one, one hour group. Video analysis will be used as well as Flight Scope, ES14, Cindy Miller's Blast Connect Online Portal, Super Speed Sticks, Interactive Metronome, Em-Wave, and Focus Band.

Our goal is to create a fun and enjoyable learning experience.

A fifteen year veteran of the PGATOUR, Allen Miller has been ranked as the second purest ball striker short game guru Dave Pelz has ever tested. His syrupy smooth swing gained him entry into five Masters, the U.S. Open, and numerous PGA Championships. A two time Walker Cup and an Eisenhower World Cup Championship, he is envied by many for his ability to hit the golf ball straight on purpose.

Cindy Miller, LPGA

Head Golf Professional

A walk-on at The University of Miami, Cindy Miller graduated the number one player, earned All American status, and was a member of two National Championship Teams. She competed on the LPGA Tour for three seasons. She went from LPGA Tour Player to PGATOUR Player wife, Mom, and caddy. She and Allen Miller have been teaching students to hit the golf ball straight on purpose for over thirty years.

Cindy has been named Top 50 LPGA Teacher, U.S. Kids Master Instructor, LPGA National Teacher of the Year, and Golf Channel Academy Lead Coach.

When she is not teaching, she may be found playing on the Official Legends Tour of the LPGA where she sits within the Top 40 of their Career Money List.

The Millers are the only married couple in the world who have competed on all four major Tours. The PGATOUR, the LPGA Tour, The PGATOUR Champions, and The Legends Tour. Combined, they have competed in over 25 "major" championships.
